

Teachers shudder when they hear students are lost if they aren't on-level by third grade.
Even though it's a technical term, CALT can have a negative connotation.
Kids learn in different ways, so there can't be a uniform approach.
Not every teacher can effectively teach reading.
Our number of CALTs is growing.
We don't dictate class sizes at the secondary level.

504 Program Update

Leandra Trevino, Assistant Director of the 504 Program, went over the following points:

504 is part of a federal law, and is all about providing equal access to educational offerings for students who have a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities.

504 students may receive certain testing accommodations, but not modifications to the test material.

A special committee is designated for each 504 student.
