Highland Park's highest score on the 2013-2014 Student Climate Survey was for teacher expectations, which measures students' perceptions of their teachers' expectations. Please think about what your campus does to foster high expectations, and share your strategies with others.

Highland Park's lowest score on the 2013-2014 Student Climate Survey was for student engagement. This subscale measures the extent to which students enjoy their schoolwork and learning. We encourage your campus to improve the ways in which teachers provide instruction that is relevant and engaging for students. Improving student engagement is a goal of Social Emotional Learning (SEL). To find out ways to improve student engagement, please visit: <http://www.austinisd.org/academics/sel>

The following pages contain more detailed information regarding Highland Park's student climate results from 2011-2012 to 2013-2014. Please review the individual items on each subscale with particular attention to how Highland Park's average ratings have changed or remained consistent over time. Please note that some subscales have changed from previous years, making longitudinal comparisons inappropriate for some items and subscales. For items and subscales where longitudinal data are available, statistically meaningful changes are noted with up or down arrows. Please share the results of this report with all campus staff and your Campus Advisory Council to inform campus improvement planning. Appendix B contains a table with the percentage of students responding favorably to each item.
