What Does it Mean to be an Arts Involved Campus?

Your campus classifies as an arts involved school, and therefore meets the basic criteria as a Creative Campus. In arts involved schools, the majority of students receive sequential fine arts instruction, many teachers use creative teaching strategies at least once a week, and community arts partnerships are cultivated both during and after school. To improve, support, and encourage all teachers to implement creative teaching, develop new community arts partnerships in additional grade levels both during and after school and communicate more frequently with families about the value of creative learning.

Why does AISD Measure Creative Campus Scores for its campuses?

National research on creative learning shows that students attending arts-rich schools have higher levels of motivation and better academic and social success (Dwyer, 2011). In addition, prior research into the Creative Learning Initiative (CLI) in AISD indicated that the implementation of creative teaching strategies is related to increased levels of student engagement, attendance, greater academic achievement, and social emotional skills (Christian, Hasty, & Wang, 2017). Current AISD findings indicate that 69% of our elementary schools are already Creative Campuses (Figure 1). Because the arts benefit students academically and creatively, AISD, in collaboration with the City of Austin and MINDPOP, is strategically working towards achieving Creative Campuses for all students by 2022-2023 (MINDPOP, 2012).

Creative Campus Goals at Summitt

Each year, school leaders develop a Campus Improvement Plan (CIP). Despite there being no district requirement to do so, in 2016-2017 74% of elementary schools made CIP goals related to becoming a more Creative Campus. Summitt set the following goal: "All instructional staff will attend two, three-hour CLI professional development workshops."

At the end of the year, school leaders reflected on progress in the spring, as follows:

Progress: "Not accomplished"

Challenges: "Campus was not chosen to participate in the Creative Learning Initiative this school year. This will change for the 2017-2018 school year."

Successful Strategies: "Student art work is displayed throughout campus. Grade Levels do a program one time per year"

Distribution of Arts Partners by Grade at Summitt

As schools engage with community arts partners they distribute those experiences across different grades, representing different art forms and different cultures. These calculations are provided to help reflect on the current distribution of arts partners and art form to help guide future choices.
